Residents have said they feel intimidated by fascist leaflets posted through letterboxes in Larne, and a complaint has been made to police.

The flyers promoting a right-wing extremist group, calling themselves the New British Union, have been hand-delivered in the Upper Cairncastle Road area of the Co Antrim town in recent days.

The UK group - made up of many defectors from groups like the British National Party and English Defence League - is trying to revive Oswald Mosley's notorious British Union of Fascists party.

They have been operating in England and Scotland for around five years, but this is the first time they have tried to gather support in Northern Ireland.

"This sort of thing has no support in Larne at all and would be very, very frightening for residents to receive through their letterboxes," Larne resident Danny Donnelly said.

"We're very, very concerned about it.

"I believe it's a hate crime, so I have contacted local police to make them aware and hopefully they'll investigate and we can find out who's behind it."

Well as the leaflet says join the New British Union I don't think it is that difficult to find out who is behind it!

Comrades of the NBU

Anyone from the Liverpool area preferably Knowsley contact officer@newbritishunion.co.uk if you wish to join my cell- at the moment we have 3 including me, another person could be added if your committed in fulfilling our duties to NBU. I also urge you buy your full uniform as our main goal is to revive British Fascism. I was quite surprised that on ITV news we were called "Right wing extremist" the most thing i've done was handing out leaflets in my village. Im young but dedicated. Membership has increased since the ITV report. If we achieve the unlikely in the next 5-10 and hit a dent in ballot box then and only then is when our efforts will be rewarded. Thank you comrades.

Hail Mosley, Hail Raikes and Hail Britannia.

OPEN LETTER TO LABOUR SUPPORTERS

I find it increasingly difficult to understand why 'workers' continue to support the Labour party, a movement which has clearly demonstrated not merely its unwillingness, but its inability to tackle the problems of the modern age. Perhaps their members look back to the period of ardent enthusiasm and eager spirit, or, as young members they are stirred by a desire to change the conditions of society, or merely a desire to fight against what has been represented to be "this brutal alien creed of Fascism."

If you are a true Briton you will do what every true Briton claims to do, study both sides of the question. that is all we ask of you. Study our case. Pull it to pieces if you can. Compare it with the case of your own movement and then study the record of your movement.

Compare the old revolutionary ardour of the early Labour Party with its bourgeois complaisance of today. Compare the sacrifices of its earlier leaders with the smugness and self satisfaction of the Labour MP's who can vote for an extra £1000 per year for themselves while the people still suffer from wage cuts and austerity. Compare the attacks made on the Labour movement and its supporters by the media in the early years with the support now given by the same people and the adulation now showered upon it from the likes of the BBC.

The Labour Party was a party of promise, today it is merely a party of false promise. The Labour Party led us to the hell of multiculturalism and failed mass immigration, the invasions of sovereign countries and the mass killing of innocent Muslims and here at home economic depression.

To excuse themselves by saying that the Labour Government were faced with the repercussions of a world depression is to evade the issue. Socialists should know that under modern conditions the slump always follows the boom. Is it not strange that your leaders can always with such great assurance prophesy economic break down in other countries should have been incapable of foreseeing it in their own? Or, is it true as the late John Wheatey remarked when asked if he thought the leaders of the Labour Party were sincere, "They sincerely want good jobs and will make any sacrifice to hang on to them".

The Labour Party was once of sturdy, virile youth, today it is in the last stages of senile decay. If labour supporters could present us with a better and finer argument than British Fascism we would advise workers to keep supporting them, that is our duty. but the labour movement acknowledges its failure to beat our argument when it resorts to the silly methods of misrepresentation and physical violence.

One last suggestion, as a Labour supporter you should buy the leading Tory newspaper to get real and true labour news. The idea is ridiculous isnt it? But are you not doing that when you want to learn about Fascism? Do you not rely on anti-Fascist newspapers etc for information about our movement? I ask you to study our case, not what passes for our case in the organs of our opponents. Visit our website and check out where we stand, policies etc for yourselves.

THE FASTEST GROWING POLITICAL MOVEMENT IN BRITAIN TODAY

These days, I find myself doing a fair amount of writing -- for anyone that will listen. While active in the promotion of a World Union of White Nationalists, I have not by any means abandoned my faith and conviction that Fascism is the only way our respective nations, and our people, will be saved.

That requires educated Fascists, who know their way around Sir Oswald Mosley's brilliant works. But it also requires active Fascists, who are willing to do more than just sit around and talk, or offer social commentary at their local pub. In the long term, Fascism must be a philosophy of action. Sir Oswald knew this well; he was quite capable of debate (as both Lloyd George and Churchill knew, to their sorrow!) but he also put thousands of loyal followers onto the streets, as Blackshirts of the BUF. And this is precisely what we will need to see happen. It goes without saying, that with such an effort, comes conflict and confrontation.

A nation lives forever through its concepts, honour, and culture. It is for these reasons that the rulers of nations must judge and act not only on the basis of physical and material interests of the nation but on the basis of the nation's historical honour, of the nation's eternal interests. Thus: not bread at all costs, but honour at all costs.

THE FASTEST GROWING POLITICAL MOVEMENT IN BRITAIN TODAY

I'm sure our Comrade, Party Leader Gary Raikes, is well aware of this, too. I gather from what I see in Blackshirt that local candidates are being run as independents, and this is a wise move.

But with screaming hordes of Antifa out there in the streets, and Muslim rape gangs snatching young girls off the streets everywhere in Britain, it is clear that force must be met with superior force. As the old saying goes, "faith flows through the fist!"

I fully realize that this is easier said than done, especially in countries that have disarmed their citizens, and turn a blind eye to alien atrocities in their midst.

But resistance is not futile. Yes, we as individuals may be injured or killed in the struggle. But if we inspire ten more to rise up angry, and ready to fight, then our struggle will not have been in vain. The slogan that the original Italian Fascists painted on their bandages, after a scuffle with the Reds, was "Me Ne Frego" -- a loose translation would be, "I don't care," meaning that their injuries were of no consequence to them. The struggle for the Cause is what mattered. And if government has become a pack of traitors, as it apparently has (on both sides of the pond,) then we must not hesitate to turn our attention to them, as well.

Speak out, without fear or favor. When a traitorous Prime Minister tells you that "Islam is compatible with British values," you should be screaming bloody murder.

Commit yourselves anew, to Fascist action and Fascist victory! Because, in the long-term, that's what is needed. You know it. I know it. Comrade Raikes clearly knows it. Marches and parades may indeed be useless; serious resistance is not, and if I have to explain, you wouldn't understand. The very name "Fascist" comes from the Italian, "Fasci di Combattimento" -- "Group of Fighters."

FIGHT, AND NO SURRENDER!

HAVE YOUR SAY

My name is Zachary Trent and I am an American citizen who feels a calling to assist in the defense of my ancestral homeland of England.

My allegiance and loyalty lies with the Motherland and her people. My eternal biological connection with Great Britain supersedes my temporal citizenship with another sovereign nation. Because of this, I would like to assist the New British Union in any meaningful way that I can, whether it be through activism, technical assistant (graphic design, writing, pamphlets, etc.), or any other means.

As for my educational background, I have an Bachelor's degree in religious studies/history and a have completed graduate level coursework in several academic areas. Politically, I consider myself to a Mosleyan Fascist and a Traditionalist in the vein of Julius Evola. I am also a proponent of the work of Jorian Jenks, and support his idea of the importance of the bonding of our people with the land. For far too long have we witnessed the scourge of democracy and liberalism/neo-conservatism as the prevailing political paradigm.

Dear Comrades I am 33 from the West Midlands and joining the New British Union would be a huge honour for me.

No politicians are listening to the native people of this land, but I know you are and you want make this country a great nation like it once was. I used to be a member of EDL but they have become a joke. It pains me to say that because the far right should be united as one, but soon that will happen. I will commit the the NBU 110%. Its time to kick the scum out of our country. LONG LIVE BRITAIN, LONG LIVE THE NBU

Hard labour camps could deter terrorism

It seems that our security services are carrying out 700 live terrorism investigations according to the national dailies. This reveals the sad state of our justice system.

We must have laws that allow us to kick out anybody who even breathes threats against England before they have a chance to commit atrocities.

Happen we should think about hard labour camps as a deterrent or bring back capital punishment for what are, in fact, treasonable crimes. Oh, still the EU won't let us, will they?

Dear Editor,

I was surprised to read about Lord Mandelson's remarks about Brexit supporters being nationalists and at his definition of nationalism being a hatred of foreigners and foreign countries.

From which dictionary did he take his definition? Nationalists are extremely patriotic and we show an allegiance and loyalty to our country. I am not ashamed to be known as an English Nationalist and wonder why it is seen as a bad thing that we want to be an independent country, free of domination by Brussels and its fat-cat unelected cronies?

Nationalism can sometimes be seen as a feeling of superiority over other countries but why shouldn't we feel good about ourselves? After all since William the Conqueror we have only been invaded on land by foreign troops once and that in 1688.

With his pension as a former European Commissioner and all the perks that go with it, Lord Mandelson won't be seen to criticise the Brussels gravy train.

Another Lord, Lord Green of Deddington, founded Migration Watch and has pointed out that the average English person is still 90 per cent European. The impact of modern inflows of hundreds of thousands is entirely different from the melding of a small number of Germanic tribes before the Normans. Since the Angles, Saxons, Jutes and Frisians came here to settle in the 400s we have never been a country of immigrants. Indeed we have never welcomed incomers. Jews were expelled in the 1300s, Huguenots were "welcomed" with riots and since the 1950s all incomers have been met with hostility, marches and the like. In 1951 less than four per cent of England's population was of immigrant stock!

According to research from the University College of London incomers of all nationalities did not benefit us taxpayers but cost £140 billion between 1995 and 2011! So much for the benefits of "multiculturalism".

During England's good run in the World Cup in Russia, I proudly flew the St George's flag with England across it, then after their defeat, I flew the normal flag of St George, sadly at half mast following the death of a friend and neighbour. I am now flying the White Dragon flag of the English on a red background, the flag of the Saxons as they fought the Britons who became the Welsh and forced them into what is now Cornwall, Wales, Cumbria and Welsh Strathclyde.

Granville V Stone,

Writing to newspapers

As I have put a number of times before these sort of letters give us free propaganda and are much easier than traipsing round giving leaflets out. Also, there is no chance of being berated at the doors by those who disagree with us as I found out during the Leave campaign. Papers such as Heritage and Destiny do a grand job but mainly they preach to the converted. At times, though I have earned quite a name as a Nationalist over the years, some of it is beyond me! The Derby Telegraph has a readership of almost 55,000 so I'm reaching a lot of folks. More of us should do this or happen just write in saying they agree with what I put.

Granville V Stone,

THE FASTEST GROWING POLITICAL MOVEMENT IN BRITAIN TODAY

If you're a fan of classic sci-fi movies, you'll remember this one: Soylent Green, made in 1973. It depicted a world that was jammed up, overcrowded with people, no running cars or personal transport, massive food shortages, and a perpetual heat wave.

The future it depicted was, 2018.

Well, we haven't quite gotten to this point yet, but are we really too far away? The film spoke of "poisoned land, poisoned oceans," and that much, we have achieved. Industrial waste, nuclear waste, an overdose of fertilizers and pesticides, and a "throw-away" society fueled by plastic, have all contributed. Our air isn't in much better shape; look at photos from China, where people in Beijing go around wearing gas masks.

Capitalism, Communism, and Socialism are all ultimately driven by profiteering, at the end of the day; not social responsibility, and not ecological responsibility. Only one political philosophy manages a harmonious balance between all factors: FASCISM.

Yet we are bombarded every day with how evil Fascism is, and that it's a philosophy for murderous, intolerant bigots. Our people are brow-beaten into submission, by those who seek our extermination. And that is not an exaggeration.

We are fighting for the very survival of our race, our nations, and our planet itself. You'd think the great masses of people would welcome such a struggle, enthusiastically. Instead, they seem intent on becoming Soylent Green.

Like Soylent Green, Fascism is made of people. But we had better redouble our efforts, because ... the future is here. Now. Will you get serious? Or will you just wait to be devoured?

Fascism and Family pt. I - the Youth

*Written by Comrade D. A.
and Comrade J. L.
Williams.*

In every instance of its implementation, fascism has always been supportive of the nuclear family. However, this supremely-efficient and just model of the family is increasingly under threat in modern times, from sources both internal and external to our nation. Internally, a push from academia to destroy natural gender roles and traditional parental responsibility threatens to erode the very foundations of the nuclear family; externally, the import of several cultures which are antithetical to the values that built our great nation has in turn given rise to ideas in our nation such as polygamy, paternal emotional detachment, and overt misogyny from husband to wife.

It is abundantly clear that fascism does not support any of these ideals. What policies and actions, then, would the New British Union undertake to ensure the sanctity of the family, both as an entire organic entity and also as the sum of its parts? In keeping with our adherence to traditional familial roles, we shall analyse mother, father, and youth in turn.

The development of consumerism, and all the ills it has brought, is directly correlated to the decline in discipline and moral values for the youth. It is undeniable that such things as social media have risen a diagonal flame of vanity within the mass of young boys and girls, draining what attention they might otherwise have turned to personal self-development and depositing it instead in the swamp of self-indulgence and self-interest.

Conversely, a youth under fascism would be encouraged to become active and disciplined, through a higher age restriction on social media, a campaign of moral education regarding vanity, and a nation-wide enlightenment on the great worth to be had in family-centric values. In contrast to the emasculation of young British boys and men in the age of the cultural Marxist academic, the young man of our world would be proud of his natural role and thought-pattern. Instead of a consistent focus on social media, he would sit down after a productive day at school with his family, bonding with them. The National Youth Corp, for which a four hour attendance per week would be compulsory for all young men from the ages of 8 to 18, will hone both body and mind, shaping muscle and brain power alike, developing each young man to his full potential and simultaneously creating a recreational environment in which he could bond with likeminded, morally-principled friends, away from the allure of the streets - gangs, drugs, underage sex and alcohol.

We also acknowledge the certain fact that girls and women are the bedrock of every society and they must be treated as such, and empowered by this knowledge. Females are the bearers of life; they are the maternal archetype, inclined towards the nurturing of the young (complimenting perfectly the paternal, disciplinarian archetype). As such, young girls must be taught to recognise their beauty within themselves, free of the need to wear makeup, or seek the approval of their peers lest their esteem plummet into a false abyss. Girls must be taught the necessity of raising a family, a role which nature has graced them with.

Ultimately, the youth must know that they are the torch-bearers of a new generation, and that the flame that will illuminate the future path of Britain lies firmly in their grasp.

Part two - Fatherhood and Motherhood - coming soon.

LOYALTY TO LEADER, PARTY AND COMRADES

Some 'nationalists' do not, or cannot understand the wearing of political uniform, they assume a patronising air towards new Fascism and its principles. These people could never be Fascist. they have neither the vigour nor the enthusiasm in their character necessary to such a movement. mentally they are well-equipped but their spirit is deficient. Old nationalists refuse to recognise the virtue and the value of service, leadership and discipline, all of which are fundamentals of Fascism.

The Black shirt is a symbol of unity, abolishing class differences and it is certainly patriotic. It is a symbol which stands for the regeneration of Britain for the benefit of every man, woman and child. Each Blackshirt knows that they are a unit in a vast organisation and that fascism is being built up on the integrity of its members. Implicit loyalty to our leader and to all that he stands for is absolutely essential, but this does not imply a blind admiration of everything that anyone wearing a fascist badge may say or do. On the contrary, it means the sincere and rigid upholding of a principle at any cost. True loyalty has a keen eye for defects in organisation and a critical estimate of human character. Anyone can pin on a fascist badge or pull on a black shirt, but unless they prove by their life and actions that they are Fascist in spirit, they are no more deserving of loyal support than any other hypocrite.

Frank constructive criticism hurts nobody, and he is not a true fascist who still believes that descretion is the better part of valour. We are growing out of the old nationalist creeds, and we shall have to shed many of the comfortable old lies, disloyalty and ill-discipline of the old gang which in these days are an encumbrance we cannot afford.

THE FASTEST GROWING POLITICAL MOVEMENT IN BRITAIN TODAY

Where We Stand

PATRIOTISM AND REVOLUTION

New British Union is loyal to Crown and Country. Our watchword is "Britain First" and we are determined to build a Nation worthy of Patriots. Therefore we stand for revolutionary changes in Government, in economics and in life itself.

ACTION

New British Union stands for Action in Government which Parliamentary obstruction prevents. New British Union will give Government power to act and then to carry out the will of the people. Government will depend on the vote of the people and will be responsible to the whole Nation.

BLACKSHIRT MOVEMENT

Our Blackshirt men and women unite in voluntary discipline to serve their country because only a creed which puts country before self can save our Nation and our people. Because New British Union is a Movement of National revival we have no foreign models as we believe that "Britain Awake" can surpass them all. Our iron creed of New Fascism is the universal creed of the 21st century, but in each country it has a policy, method, and character suited to that country and no other because it is a national and not an international creed.

FLASH AND CIRCLE

The flash of action in the circle of union is the symbol of the New British Union. National Action can only come from National Union that ends party warfare.

THE SYNDICALIST STATE

New British Union will solve the problem of unemployment and poverty by the establishment of the Syndicalist State. This new system will comprise of National Syndicates, controlled by politically-unaffiliated representatives of employers, workers and consumers operating under New British Union Government. These collectives of employer and employee will together lay down the laws pertaining to their respective occupational field, setting an economic direction that looks toward both improving worker rights and growth of domestic markets.

Private enterprise must enrich the nation as well as the individual. Employers must serve the nation and not the faction.

WORK - WAGES - SCIENCE - HEALTH AND TAXATION

The Syndicates will create a larger Home Market by raising wages and salaries at a rate proportional to the one at which developments in science and organisation increase our gross domestic product. Thus, New Fascism will overcome the problem of a great many Britons being unemployed while millions require the goods they can produce. A high standard of life for the British man and woman will be built by the Syndicates - free from wage-cutting and cheap labour at home or abroad. That higher standard of life will in turn grow the Home Market, as average household expenditure increases (and hence so does the aggregate national demand), which industry now lacks. The abolition of income tax and its replacement by a fairer tax on luxury goods will further increase the consumption of those with the highest marginal propensity to consume their income. Employment "Britain for the British", will be ensured for all by "British Jobs for British the demand of an Workers" and "British enlarged Home Market. A Houses for British People".

British Fascist Government will invest substantially in animal-friendly scientific and medical research, ever-pushing to find a cure for the scourges of cancer, mental illness and heart disease. Britons will be educated to drink and smoke less, and we will combat the criminal trade in deadly illegal drugs such as heroin. The National Health Service will be staffed by British doctors and nurses. New British Union Government will finance a British Space Exploration Programme of the future.

IMMIGRATION

Immigration into Britain will be strictly controlled and those immigrants who are work-shy, involved in crime, anti-social behaviour and support for terrorism will be deported in double-quick time. We have no wish to persecute those of whatever race or religion who are law-abiding, hard-working and who contribute to Britain's economy. Regaining control of our borders will reduce racism and violence and so restore

BRITAIN AND PEACE

New British Union will build a self-contained, self-sufficient British Nation and a New Fascist Commonwealth of Canada, Australia and New Zealand, insulated from the international struggle for markets which brings wage-cutting and wars. We will consider joining a New European Union of Fascist Nations to replace the corrupt and financial democratic EU. Within this block we can produce all the goods, food-stuffs and raw materials we require, and build a standard of life so high that the people can consume the goods which modern industry can produce. To maintain that standard we will exclude the cheap, foreign goods which displace British labour and reduce wages. To build a self-contained Fascist Britain with the motto "Mind Britain's Business" is the only way to avoid foreign entanglements and foreign War.

EXPORT TRADE

Our manufacturing industry will find a greater market within this New Fascist Civilisation in return for the increased amount of raw materials which we shall buy from the New British Union of Nations and Europe. Our Fascist Trade Motto is; "Britain buys from those who buy from Britain."

AGRICULTURE AND FISHERIES

Foreign food-stuffs will be excluded and replaced by British products. As a result of this Economic Nationalism we will increase Home production and find employment for Britons on the land. Their good wages will purchase British goods and an increased Home Market will take the place of the foreign markets we are losing to China and India today. The Land must be used in the interest of the Nation. Those who develop their land in the British interest will be assisted by National Credit and freed from burdens. The Land of Britain will neither be the playground of the few nor the spoil of the speculator. We will enact an exclusion zone around British waters reserved exclusively for British ships and fishing boats, crewed by British seamen and fishermen.

THE FASTEST GROWING POLITICAL MOVEMENT IN BRITAIN TODAY

BRITISH CREDIT AND INTERNATIONAL FINANCE

International financiers in the City of London will no longer be permitted to use the credit of Britain to damage this country in the interests of alien usury and foreign investments. British credit will be used for British industry and the money system will serve British producers and consumers instead of financiers and gamblers. The misuse of British credit will become a criminal offence.

LEADERSHIP AND LIBERTY

New British Union is a leadership of the people along the path of action they desire. We offer new leadership not dictatorship in the old sense which was against the will of the people, but dictatorship in the modern sense under New British Union Government will be the will of the people expressed through the Government they have elected. The declared will of a freed people will replace the present tyranny of the vested interests who are elected by none and responsible to none. The will of the people will be expressed in elections and referendums at regular I intervals and will be carried into effect by a Government given the power to act. So action will replace talk and "Britain again will dare to be Great."

Brother and Sister Fascists, the country's need is great. Never in the history of Britain have its enemies been so strong, or so determined to bring about its downfall. We know that Fascism and only Fascism will save us from the evils of Cultural Marxism, Communism and Bolshevism. Fascism is the purest form of patriotism, putting Britain and the British first always, not sometimes when it suits, as the political elite does. It is essential that now, as never before, we determine, each and everyone of us, to become a spokesperson for the cause we have at heart. The time is ripe, wherever we go, at work or play, we should remember that thinking people of all classes are realising the failure of the party system, anything up to 70% no longer even vote, they see the need for sane practical remedies. Fascism alone can supply those remedies.

The public are awakening, are you Fascists sleeping? So many of you are strangers to NBU Office that we are wondering if we should all be wearing black armlets instead of Flash and Circle ones. Your duty to the movement is a great one. Each and everyday you should, think, talk and write (not dream) Fascism.

STEVENS BOOKS

During the existence of the pre-war British Union of Fascists and National Socialists (called British Union for short) many books and booklets were made available dealing with policies and ideas from within the movement. These were sold at meetings and via mail order. This collection is not complete - but it is one of the most extensive. These publications have been reset and made available as a prime source for students and other interested parties. Post war material can be found under the category heading Union Movement. The BUF was founded in 1932, before the advent to power of Adolf Hitler. It gained support because the main political parties could not deal with the problems of the day such as unemployment, the lack of housing and poor health provision.

Unity Mitford joined the British Union of Fascists on Monday 19th June, 1933 at their London Headquarters at 12 Lower Grosvenor Place, Westminster.

The following week she went to see Lady Makgill, who was in charge of recruitment, at her office in 233 Regent Street, London and bought herself a blackshirt.

On Sunday 16 July, she joined a recruitment march through London which started from Eaton Square. Unity had her place in the column suitably dressed in her new blackshirt.

A report of the March appeared in Fascist Week, 22-28 July, 1933 under the heading, Marching to Power:

Our first Fascist March through London took place on Sunday, the 16th July. It was a first experiment in the new Fascist method, and consisted of a few selected detachments. No greater tribute to the impression which it made upon London
